UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
DULUTH BRANCH

We dedicate this book to CHARLES N. SALTUS—Scholar and friend, realistic humanist, philosopher and teacher, whose interpretation of the classics made them meaningful and dynamic for the present and the future; whose vibrant personality and unquenchable quest for ideas made him one of our youngest professors even at retirement. But there can be no retirement for Dr. Saltus—not as long as his students and their students continue to keep alive the great ideas, values and tastes which have motivated men's actions since the dawn of civilization.

JAMES LEWIS MORRILL, B.A., LL.D.
President, University of Minnesota

BOARD OF REGENTS

Back row: Vice President William T. Middlebrook, Ray J. Quinlivan, Herman F. Skyberg, Richard L. Griggs, J. S. Jones, Albert J. Lobb, Vice President Malcolm M. Willey. Seated: A. J. Olson, Sheldon V. Wood, President J. L. Morrill, Chairman Fred B. Snyder, George W. Lawson, James F. Bell. Not present: Daniel C. Gainey, E. E. Novak.

RAYMOND C. GIBSON, Ph.D.
Provost, Duluth Branch

JOHN E. KING, Ph.D.
academic dean

Edwin B. Wenzel, senior student counselor; Chester Wood, director, office of student personnel services; Harriet Harrison, student counselor.

The functions of the Office of Student Personnel Services are many and varied. Unknown to the majority of the students, this is the location of the lost and found department. The placement service attempts to place graduates in all fields, while many part time work applications also go through the office. Registration is one of the bigger jobs of the staff. Related to this are class cards, grades, records and drop-add procedures. Graduation lists are compiled, credits checked and transcripts made out as a service to seniors. Special service is given to freshmen in evaluation and ranking of admission applications. Bulletins, address books, post office lists and class and exam schedules are prepared for publication. Items for the weekly bulletin are handled through the office. The method of contact with the students is through the P.O. boxes. The staff of eleven workers includes the director of the OSPS, the senior student counselor and the dean of women.

The private secretaries in the offices at UMD are Charlotte Wicht in the Provost's office, Elsie Anderson in the Dean's office, and Eleanor Myzal and Beverly Levisay in the Laboratory School office.

Harold Goldstein, Ph.D., William A. Porter, Ph.D., Joyce Carlgren, secretary.

The Audio-Visual Extension Service of the University of Minnesota offers the services of its educational film library to a wide area. Films, equipment and information from the files of magazines are available not only on a local basis, but to all residents of Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin and the Dakotas. Instructions on running movie projections also have been offered.

The job of the News Service is to inform the people of Duluth and northeastern Minnesota of the activities at their university branch. This is done by means of news stories which are mailed to local and out of town papers, radio stations and through a speaker's bureau coordinated through the News Service. Other activities of the office are the conduct of alumni relations and the technical supervision of UMD publications, including bulletins.

In addition to directing the News Service Mr. Caldwell serves as advisor to student publications and teaches journalism.

Carolyn Blakeney, secretary; William Caldwell, director, news service.

EARL H. HOBE,
business manager

The routine of the Business Office includes acting as cashier, of requisitioning, purchasing, making out payrolls, distributing school mail, and handling non-academic appointments and other related civil service matters. In direct relation to the student, the office collects payments for fee statements and lockers.

The Student Health Service, located on the first floor of Washburn Hall, is available to every UMD student through his activity fee. One of the important functions of the service is giving physical examinations to new students and seniors.

Right: Hilda Schumacher, assistant nursing supervisor; Ronald Signorelli, student.

The University Bookstore is well equipped with all the textbooks and supplies needed in every course offered at UMD. Pennants and other collegiate merchandise are also on sale at the store while students who wish to sell their used texts are offered a book exchange service.

The aim of the library is to provide all the reading and reference materials needed by the students in the courses offered at UMD. These resources are easily and quickly available through the card catalog and various indexes. Books and magazines are also available for general reading. Students and faculty have free access to all shelves.

LIBRARY STAFF

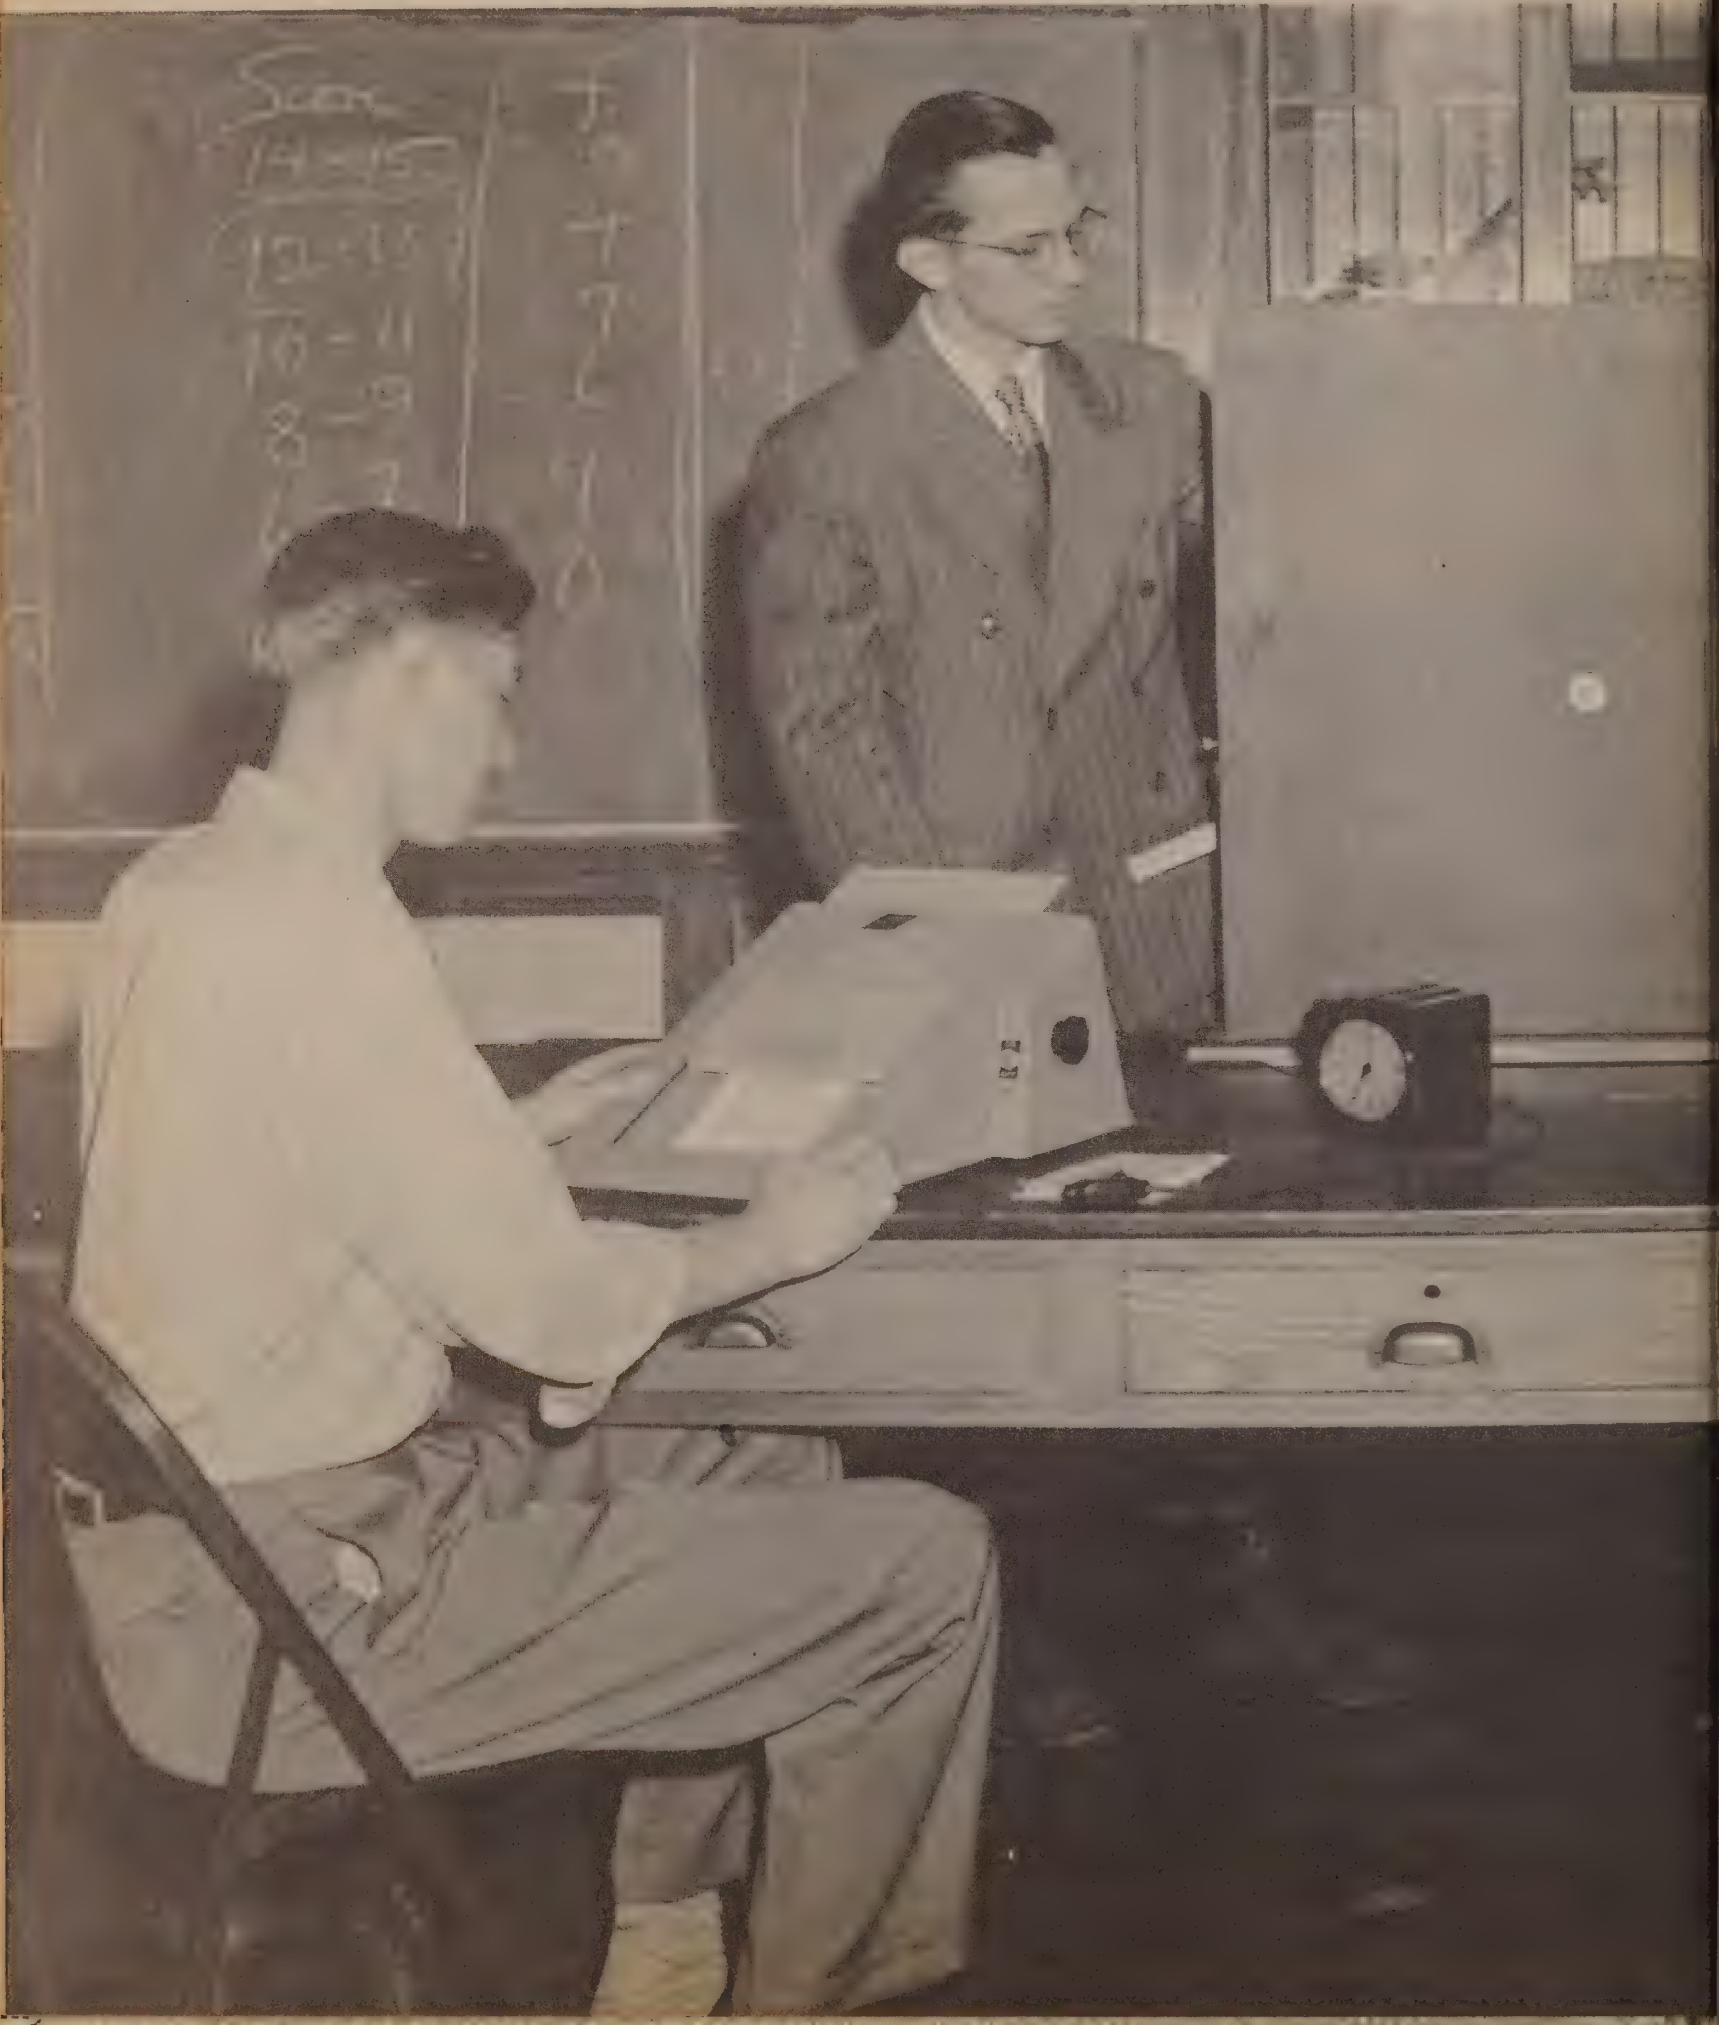
DIVISION OF EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY



VALWORTH R. PLUMB, Ph.M., chairman, division of education and psychology.

The Education and Psychology Division has a threefold responsibility: to offer a general education program for all students; to cooperate with the other divisions in arranging curricula for prospective teachers; and to provide for the needs of certain students through major and minor sequences and service courses in the department of psychology. Prospective teachers put their theories into practice at the laboratory school and in conjunction with the city school system. The general education program gives students the fundamentals of the behavior of people.

DIVISION OF FINE AND APPLIED ARTS

RALPH DALE MILLER, Ph.D.
Chairman
Division of Fine and Applied Arts

The Fine and Applied Arts Division combines the departments of music and art.

The aim of the division is to provide for every student an opportunity to gain esthetic experience in the arts, and to offer more intensive study to students who desire specialization in the arts. To achieve this twofold purpose the division provides a wide range of offerings to satisfy the needs of both types of student. For the general student there are introductory courses. Those students with previous interest or background may achieve a more penetrating knowledge of the subject in advanced courses.

If you happened to have a late class on either Tuesday or Friday, you may have heard the notes of a clarinet or trumpet echoing throughout the halls originated by the UMD band under the direction of Mr. Elmer P. Magnell. This year Mr. Magnell chaperoned his group on a two day concert tour to Keewatin, Nashwauk, Gilbert, and International Falls. This was the first appearance of the band in the newly remodeled black uniforms with the gold and maroon braid. The band also played for football and basketball games, led the Homecoming parade, and performed before many high school assemblies in the surrounding area.

During the past year, the UMD orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Ralph Dale Miller, gave three concerts which included some well known compositions and some works new to the ears of the Duluth audiences. The featured soloists were three members of the UMD music faculty including Mr. Allen Downs, Mr. James Smith, and Mr. Robert Beverley. At Christmas, the combined orchestra and mixed choir gave a concert composed mostly of Bach Christmas Carols.

The mixed choir under the direction of Dr. Addison Alspach together with the Superior State choir presented Verdi's "Requium" with the Duluth Symphony. The chorus also gave concerts at Virginia and Eveleth this spring.

FOOTBALL

The 1949 season found UMD "freelancing." Although the Bulldogs had been officially accepted into the MIAC, because of previously scheduled games, actual conference competition will not begin until the fall of 1950. Included on the UMD's 1949 slate were many teams from the Minnesota Teachers College Conference even though the Bulldogs did not figure in that conference's standings either.

The 1949 season opened with a heart-breaking loss to Moorhead Teachers. Leading 6-0 with a minute to go in the first half, the Bulldogs saw their lead slip away as the Dragon's Jim Gotta snagged an intercepted pass and traveled 85 yards to put Moorhead in the lead 7-6 at half time. Another TD in the second half gave the Dragons a 13-6 victory as the Bulldog offense stalled.

With Chuck Koopman lugging the leather most of the evening, the Bulldogs roared back to dump Bemidji Beavers 13-12. Koopman scored both touchdowns.

UMD found its offense in low gear the week of the St. Cloud encounter. The best they could garner was a touchdown on a returned punt by Glenn Christe. The Huskies were in command most of the evening and went off to the showers on the long end of a 7-6 count.

Glenn Christe came through with another long punt return to feature an 18-12 Bulldog victory over the Mankato Indians. UMD's first score came on an end around play with Leon Kasmir lugging the leather. A pass from Bernie Neary to Rudy Brandstrom produced the remaining six points.

The Bulldogs delighted a fine Homecoming crowd with a 32-6 victory over Winona's Warriors. There was no stopping the Bulldogs this night as "Pete" emptied the bench. Scoring for the Bulldogs were Bob Galinski, Rudie Brandstrom on a pass from Bob Rice, Fred Murphy, Bob Murray on a pass from Rice, Jack King and Rudie Brandstrom on a pass from Don McDonnell.

The Minnesota "B" team Bombers came to town and defeated UMD 26-12 in a game that was probably the best played from the standpoint of both teams' performances. The stubborn Bulldogs twice knotted the count but the Bombers, displaying coolness and reserve power, surged into the lead and hung on. Outstanding for the Bulldogs was the spectacular running of Don McDonnell, substitute left halfback.

For the graduating seniors the long-awaited 33-27 victory over Superior came as a fitting close to the 1949 football season and for their college football careers as well. Leroy Lilly, substitute end for the injured Leon Kasmir, rose to his responsibility as he succeeded in grabbing two passes from Bob Rice, both good for touchdowns, to give UMD a two touchdown lead. Chuck Koopman, Don McDonnell and Bob Galinski on a pass from McDonnell scored the remaining Bulldog touchdowns.

Jack Coons, number 50, and Bob Neary knock Bill McMoore of the Minnesota "B" squad out of bounds.

Pete gets a free ride by jubilant members of his squad after the long awaited defeat of the Superior State Yellowjackets.

The 1950 edition of the UMD Bulldogs' basketball team finished their 22 game season with nine victories against 13 losses and in a 5th place tie with Gustavus in the MIAC standings. The team was coached by Ray Isenbarger.

The season was termed "the oddest season I've ever coached" by Isenbarger. The Bulldogs racked up 1364 points for their season's total. Their opponents scored only 1333 points. The Bulldogs lost two close overtime contests to the St. Cloud Huskies after leading most of the way in both games. Two games, one to Gustavus Adolphus and one to Augsburg were lost on successive week ends by the identical score of 60-59. UMD led both games throughout the entire contest. The Bulldogs played only seven contests in which they were behind at half time.

Leading scorer for the Bulldogs was their All-Conference center, Rudy Monson. Big Rudy scored a total of 441 points for UMD in 22 games for an average game total of 20 points per game. Individual team scoring was as follows:

The sixth game of the season against St. Cloud saw Rudy Monson score his highest game total, when he potted 33 points. The game also saw Dale Bentz, first string forward, injured and out for the season. The Bulldogs suffered the loss of Ed Westerhaus for several important mid-season games when he dislocated his shoulder in the game against Stout.

The highest point total in one game for the Bulldogs was against Concordia when UMD scored 81 points.

SKIING

Team balance and depth proved the winning combination of the UMD ski team as they went through their entire schedule undefeated.

The skiers opened the season with a team victory in the Central Ski Association Combined Downhill, Slalom meet. A dual meet with the University of Minnesota was held at the same time and UMD came out on the long end of the score.

Members of the ski team had the unique honor of capturing UMD's first conference victory when they walked off with the MIAC trophy in competition at St. Olaf. A dual meet with St. Olaf was held at the same time. UMD scored its fourth victory of the season.

In the season's finale, UMD captured its own annual Invitational meet at Fond du Lac and Chester bowl to keep their undefeated slate clean.

HOCKEY

UMD puckmen, under the coaching of Henry Jensen, won four conference games, lost one and tied two, to place third in the MIAC.

The game's scores were:

UMD	4	St. Olaf	2
UMD	6	Augsburg	1
UMD	6	Hamline	3
UMD	1	St. Johns	2
UMD	4	St. Thomas	4 (tie)

INTRAMURALS

The Intramural program at UMD continued to grow as well over 300 individuals participated in seven different types of recreation.

The men's basketball program was set up so that 24 teams were competing in four leagues. Competition was held in the late afternoon and evenings. The winners of each league met in a championship round with the final winner gaining the privilege of representing UMD in the MIAC extra-mural meet. This year's basketball champion was Vesel's Weasels. The Weasels went to the semi final round in the MIAC meet.

Sixteen teams competed in a one league bowling tournament with the Rangers coming out on top.

The East Rangers composed of Dave Dye, John Eaton, Rudy Fadlovich, Bill Johnson, Harlan Johnson, Scott Erickson and Herb Schur won the intramural touchball championship.

Other types of activities included in the program were volleyball, All-Nations basketball, softball and badminton.

TRACK

The Bulldogs opened the 1949 track season with a victory in the Lewis relays at Eveleth. Competing against Duluth JC, Eveleth JC, Virginia JC and Hibbing JC, UMD came home with flying colors. Showing up well for the team were Bruce Budge, Norm Ward, Glenn Olson, Bob Potter, Paul Johnson and Les Nummela.

In the Bemidji Invitational meet Bulldog trackmen managed a fourth place. UMD's Elwood Laakso was the mighty mite of the meet as the little trackster set the pace in the two mile race and trudged home well ahead of the field. Glenn Olson won the shot put. Les Nummela took first place in the mile run. Paul Johnson also placed in the mile.

The dual meet with Augsburg was held in conjunction with the University of Minnesota's dual meet with the University of Iowa. Augsburg won 83½ - 33½. Glenn Olson won the only Bulldog first place with a toss of 42 feet 4 inches in the shot put.

GOLF

UMD golfers won dual meets with Michigan Tech and Bemidji State Teachers College. They placed sixth in MIAC competition. Members of the team were Richard Lilijdahl, Tom Kohlbry, John Olsen, Jack Gerard, Bill Strang, Walt Bida and Bobb Rastello.

TENNIS

The UMD tennis team opened the 1949 campaign with a victory in the Bemidji Invitational meet. Other schools participating were Moorhead, North Dakota University, Bemidji and St. Cloud. UMD's top seeded Kermit Johnson lead the way.

The Bulldogs continued their winning ways with successive wins over Superior State and Michigan Tech in dual meets at Duluth.

The MIAC meet was a different story however, as the Bulldogs found the competition too stiff. The netters didn't place in the final standings.

Members of the team were Kermit Johnson, Paul Bilger, Tom Parr and Don Ames.

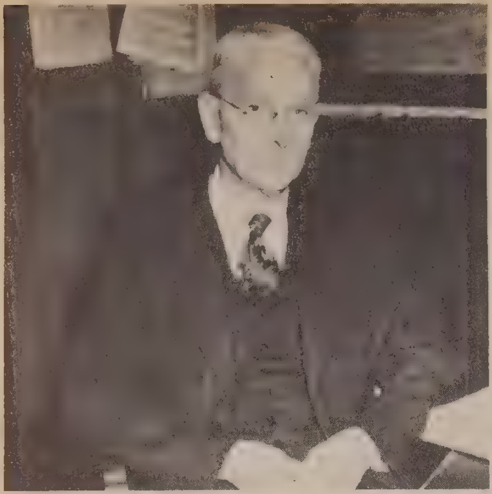
DIVISION OF LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE



CHARLES N. SALTUS, Ph.D., Chairman, Division of Language and Literature.

The Division of Language and Literature embraces the departments of English, speech, foreign languages and journalism. The foreign languages are French, German, Spanish and Swedish. A two year program is offered for journalism students. The purpose of the journalism department is to develop the students' ability to pick out significant facts and evaluate public events.

The educational aims of the division are communication, cultivation and the ability to teach. The art of written communication is developed through the composition of themes and the study of rhetoric. Cultivation is developed through the reading and study of the various forms of literature.

UMD's official publication the STATESMAN concluded another successful year of publication having made the big jump to a weekly at the first of the year. Last year the paper won an All-American award, the highest possible rating for a college newspaper.

The circulation was 200 more each week this year, making a total of 2,500 published each week. Because of the stepped up schedule in the school the STATESMAN was hard pressed at times to find room in the paper to cover every item of news interest.

The paper instigated a new font of type to save space. The switch was made from 11 point Caldonian to 10 point Cheltenham during the winter quarter.

With the change to a weekly the paper had great difficulties with cramped quarters. It is hoped that there will be more space next year.

This year they experimented with a feature new to the paper called "Poll Tacts"—a poll that sampled student opinion. They also carried a new catch-all column called "Ala Cart" which concerned itself with comments on essundry subjects. Probably the most read feature of the year was Herb Taylor's humor column. This column concerned itself with humor ranging from Shakespeare to comments on mankind.

The STATESMAN continued its coverage of all news and sport events.

On the sofa, Kay McDonnell and Charles Baznik get acquainted in a scene from "Life With Father." Mother pleads with father, who likes to pretend he is immovable.

The University Guild under the direction of Harold Hayes carried out another successful year.

In November they presented "Life With Father," the comedy of the Clarence Day family. The father was played by Toni Romano. Other members of the Day family included Vinnie (Shirley Hanson) the mother; John (Roger Rotvig); Clarence Jr. (Charles Baznik); Whitney (Tommy Martin); and Harlan (Gerald Plumb). Other members of the cast included Kay McDonnell, Louise Harjes, Phillip Smith, Frank L. Smith, Robert Plunkett, Irene Reed, Molly Dunphy, Kay Onsgard, Darlene Mellinger, and Jean Worrall.

The second play "The Glass Menagerie" was the simple story of a frustrated mother who tried too hard to live her children's lives for them and in doing it leads them into patterns of defeat and frustration which are as deep and deadly as her own. The cast of four featured Kay McDonnell as Amanda, the mother; Herbert Taylor, Tom; Anne Nottingham, Laura; and Ray Helgemoe as the Gentleman Caller, Jim.

The season closed with the production of "The Hasty Heart" This is the story of a young Scottish lad (John Duncan) who lives within himself. The scene is in a jungle hospital where wounded of several nationalities live together and teach the Scot that "Sorrow is born in the Hasty Heart." Other members of the cast included: James Pomroy, Walter Sodeman, Shirley Hanson, Charles Baznik, Richard Todd, James Meckola, and Phillip Smith.

Other activities of the Guild included a Christmas party and several trips to play productions in other cities as well as Duluth.

DIVISION OF SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

JOHN C. COTHRAN, Ph.D., Chairman, Division of Science and Mathematics.

The Division of Science and Mathematics offers majors and minors for both B.A. and B.S. degrees in biology, chemistry, physics, general science, botany, zoology, mathematics and industrial education. Also included in the division are courses for pre-professional and pre-technical students in agriculture, dental hygiene, dentistry, engineering, forestry, hospital administration, library science, medical record, medical technology, medicine, mortuary science, nursing, pharmacy, physical therapy and veterinary medicine.

There are three main aims of the division. The first is to provide experiences through which the students may develop and expand their interests. Another purpose is to offer opportunities for the students to become acquainted with the physical universe so that they may better understand it and more intelligently direct their activities within the framework of its laws. The final aim is to provide the knowledges, skills and techniques that will enable students to participate fully in their chosen occupation or profession.

DIVISION OF SOCIAL STUDIES

The Social Studies Division incorporates the study of history, geography, sociology, political science and business and economics. Each of these fields is approached through general content courses embracing fundamental principles and factual knowledge. Advanced courses of a specialized nature have been designed for those students who desire more intensive work in any of the fields. Also included in the division are pre-professional courses in pre-law and pre-social work.

These subjects present a related and integrated body of knowledge which clearly conveys the story of mankind. They aim to enrich the student in his understanding of the activities of man, his struggles and achievements, his problems and solutions. They enrich the student's general education by making him familiar with the world's best ideas about the world's most important historic, geographic, social, political and economic problems and enable him to participate in the rational solution of those problems with which he may be faced.

DIVISION OF AIR SCIENCE AND TACTICS

EVERETT T. DELANEY, Major;
Professor, Air Science and Tactics

The Air ROTC at UMD is an elective course administered by the school and carries college credit applicable towards graduation. Subjects offered are on a collegiate level and in many cases, cover fields closely associated with other academic courses.

ROTC's contribution to campus activities were the beauty contest and selection of "Sweetheart of the Corps;" the ROTC Ball with Billy Bishop's orchestra; and the Review held in the spring with presentation of awards.

Purposes of the ROTC program at UMD, according to Major Everett T. Delaney, professor of Air Science and Tactics, is to provide opportunities for college men to develop those qualities of leadership that will serve them well in any walk of life, while at the same time, preparing them to assume greater responsibilities in the event of another emergency threatening our nation's life.

Graduates of the four-year program and the equivalent of four year's college work, qualify for a commission in the United States Air Force Reserve. This June, 22 graduates will enter the USAFR as Second Lieutenants.

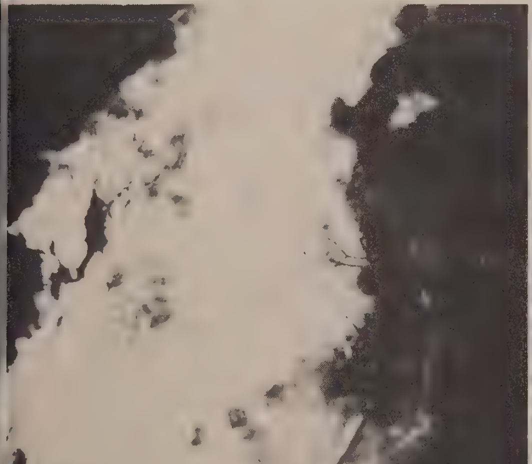
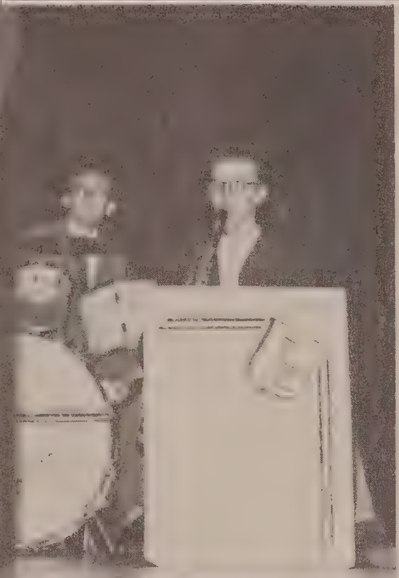
HOMECOMING

A spectacular week of frolic and fun descended on UMD for the annual homecoming celebration. Mary Swanstrom emerged as our campus queen after an exciting campaign of programs, signs, and ornamentation that extolled the virtues of the bevy of beauties who sought to reign o'er the festivities. There's never been an annual varsity show presenting such a galaxy of stars and providing such lavish entertainment. The evening was completed by the big bonfire celebration at Chester Bowl. Then Friday evening the homecoming dance was held at the Armory with dancing to the music of Walt Evans and his "Vagabonds" and the Armory decorated to simulate a football field. Come Saturday morning and most of Duluth turned out to view a large and colorful parade which included a wide variety of floats and many area high school bands. Our "Winova-Winona" slogan proved true to expectations as the Bulldogs licked Winona 32-6 in the evening homecoming football game.

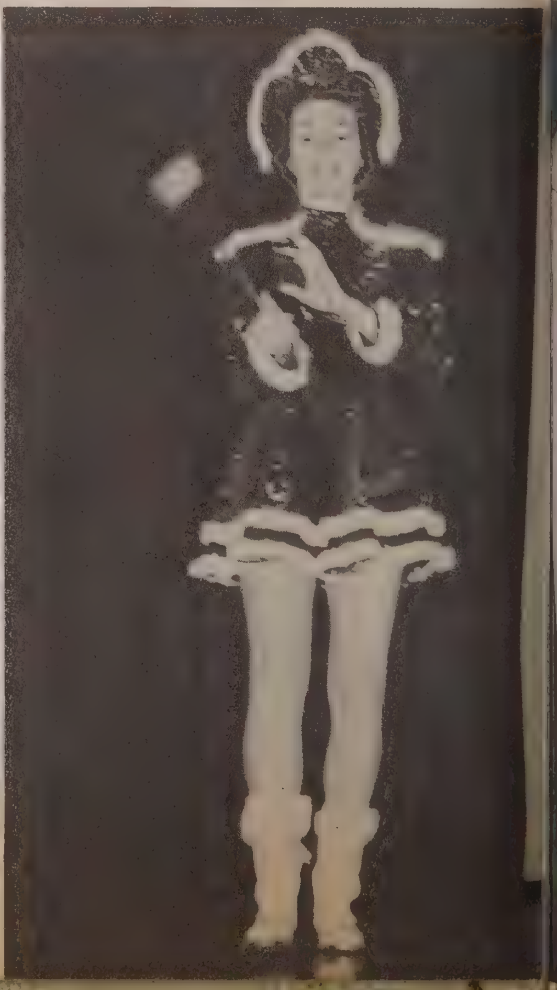
"WIN-OVA Winona"
MERCHANTS Association

"Winova-Winona," featuring our representative floats in the Saturday parade before the homecoming game. Smooth and mellow at the homecoming dance. Fire, fire, at the bonfire at Chester Bowl.





Our own "Little Nell Chorus" at the junior convo includes Dick Carlson, Dick Harkwell, Walt Bida, Bob Rice, Jerry Sicard, and Dale Peterson. Terry Evanson and his orchestra give out with some sweet swing plus song. Educational sociologist, Dr. Bernard Idding Bell discusses with Irene Mickelson some of the points of his speech. Darlene Mellinger does some high-stepping in the auditorium at the junior convo.



These were "The Woodpeckers" at the Ranger's convo, Mel Kumsha, Harlan Johnson and John Hall. A medley of folk songs by George Rydos, George Sachen, John Zobetz (accordionist), Don DePaulis, Leslie Eskola, Rudy Fadlovich, and Mike Price were presented as part of the Ranger's program.

A college fashion display at the Home Economic club's "Style Show" as presented by Ed Olson and Peggy Heed. The ROTC quartet was one of the many features of the variety show presented at the "Sweetheart of the Corps" coronation. Included are Jack Duncan, Chuck Baznik, Robert Wangen and James Quigley.
